PRICE, FIVE CENTS

Pros Lose in Dream Game, and to Amateurs in Nightmare Fray

Some three thousand baseball enthusiasts crowded the playground last Saturday to witness the much-heralded Dream Game.

Not one umpteenth of that number were on hand a day later when they could have been witnesses to an unadvertised Nightmare Game.

Narberth's pacesetters of the Main Line League were given a respite from the wars so that nine of their number could do their stuff in the second annual Main Line League affair which is played for the players' disability fund. They were members of the Eastern Division which was throttled by the Western Division to the sour tune of 10-3.

A day later the defending professional champs clashed with the Narberth Nationals, a team manned by the younger talent, who boast that they are all residents and amateurs. The Nationals defeated their elders 8-5! Of course the big team played without its regular catcher and second baseman, and also sent Mickey Gavin to the mound. But the kids point to the score which, after all, is what one remembers when other points are forgotten.

Official report is that the Dream Game was a big success—better than last year's—even though the score was one-sided. The Western Division deserved to win because its representatives played better ball. Also the management showed keener judgment in using a complete team-battery instead of mixing up pitchers and catchers from various clubs as did the Easterners. Dan Redmond's club scored two runs in each of the first and second and sewed it up tight by notching in the sixth frame. The losers got all of their runs in the fifth when George Bragg poled a home run with two on base.

Harry Fox, Tanny Ralston, Roger Malseed, Buddy Walker, Claude Bailey, George Gazella, Nickie Myers, Jack Eachus and Al Herrmann represented Narberth. One distinction of the fans' vote was that Narberth men drew high for every post except pitcher and catcher. In all, forty-six players were used in the colorful fray and the lineups changed as fast as women's fashions.

In Sunday's game the Nationals were first to score with one in the second; they saw the regular club get three in its half, but came back to knot the count in the third. Then they went wild with four in the sixth, shelling Gavin from the peak. The oldsters got single runs in the sixth and seventh, but fell short as the youngsters rubbed it in a little harder with a final run in the eighth.

Gavin, playing with his old teammates for the first time since he lost a leg two years ago, hurled well until the crucial fifth.

The courageous little athlete got into trouble when he passed Dave Stroup, Earl Ziegler and Mike McGarry. Bud Kinnucan and Johnny Gallagher then slapped singles and he gave way to Bill Reynolds. Bud Walker relieved Reynolds in the eighth.

Johnny (Admiral) Miller went the full route for the Nationals. The former Lower Merion hurler was in hot water a number of times, but he pitched his way out or else his victory-mad teammates backed him up with fine support.

Narberth will get back to the league wars tomorrow when Manoa is met on the latter's field. Sunday the locals will tangle with Berwyn at the Narberth Playground.

JOHN MULLIGAN.

Playground Notes

One of the summer's most interesting events at the Narberth Playground was the women's tennis final. Annette Warden, champion for the past two years, lost her crown to Kit Cabrey, the Ray Cabreys' daughter, of Narbrook Park. The scores were 6-4, 7-5.

Consolation tennis tournament for women was won by Alice Coal, who defeated Nell Curran 7-5, 4-6, 6-4. Men's tennis tournament has simmered down to finals between Earl Ziegler and Bob Dunn for the championship.

The junior children's treasure hunt was won by Mary Pfeffer from the group of 43 children. Older boys' and girls' hunt was won by Jim Pruitt.

In the older boys' and girls' deck tennis tournament Dave Duncan won in the finals over Bob Bailey. Children's hopscotch tournament was won by Selma Breslow.

Prizes for the best work in handicraft were awarded thus: Boys—Howard Kairer, first, Bill O'Sullivan, Tom Butler. Girls—Lois Webb, Mary McAfferty, Dimitra Chios.

Field Day results: Boys—Nine years and under: chicken race, Richard Iborra; dash, Donald Shaver; cracker eating, Bobby Gentle.

Parks

And Playfields Are A-Building in the Township.

Bids on seeding the new General Wayne and South Ardmore park-playfields were asked by Lower Merion this week, and will be opened at the Commissioners' meeting in Ardmore September 7. The work is expected to be completed this fall to provide solid turf for next spring. Grading the General Wayne park—10 acres off Meeting House lane behind Albrecht's—is now going on, and several men in the town and township have been put to work.

Narberth's Burgess, Frank A. Schrepfer, and Julius Ziegler, president of Lower Merion's Commission, told at Tuesday's meeting of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club, of the advanced program providing recreation space.

Mr. Schrepfer, consultant for the General Wayne and Cynwyd playfields, was praised by Mr. Ziegler as an architect, botanist and engineer whose knowledge and experience is almost unique. And he praised Mr. Ziegler and the commissioners for their foresight in buying up land now and improving neighborhoods at a fraction of what the cost would be 20, 10, even 5 years from now.

Full details of the park and playfield program's tremendous value to residents and property owners will be given later on in TOWN and TOWNSHIP.

Next Tuesday's Rotary speaker will be Hervey Keim, C. P. R., treasurer of the club, who will give impressions of his recent western travels.

Main Lines

Legionnaires at Convention

Pigskin Practice Begins
At Lower Merion High

Football practice at Lower Merion Junior High was due to begin this Thursday, an announcement from Dick Mattis, head coach, declared this week. Every student under 17 who weighs 110 or more is eligible to take part. Practice is 10 to 11.45 A. M.

Schedules have been arranged for two squads, permitting sixty boys an opportunity to compete. Among the schools lined up are the junior highs of Haverford, Upper Darby, Chester and the two Norristown institutions. Coaches Serrill Gibson and Lloyd Musselman will be in charge.

A full varsity schedule of eight games for boys weighing more than 125 pounds includes home games with Coatesville, Pottstown, Smedley of Chester, Edison of Harrisburg and Upper Darby, and away games with Rittenhouse of Norristown, Haverford and Phoenixville.

Associated with Mattis in the coaching department are Harvey Kline and Bill Green.

L. M. Senior High's football uniforms were given veterans of the team Wednesday, and regular practice began 2 P. M. Thursday, in charge of Coach Albert Adam and his assistants.

A Hint for Mailing

Hat boxes must be crated for protection when mailed as parcel post.

Political

Notables Attended Saturday's
G. O. Picnic.

It was held in West Manayunk Commissioner C. Brooke Jones' woods on Woodbine avenue. Several hundred Republicans fraternized in the purely social gathering, first event of the fall campaign. Congressman J. William Ditter was there, and County Leader John W. Hoffman, County Commissioner President Frederick C. Peters, many others.

County Republican committeewomen made plans for increased registration, at Mrs. John Faber Miller's, near Plymouth Country Club, Tuesday. The meeting was called by Mrs. John Y. Huber, Jr., vice-chairman of the county committee.

Largest crowd ever assembled in Whitmarsh Valley is expected to jam Fort Hill, Fort Washington, this Saturday for the county fall election campaign's opening rally. Speakers will include Judge Arthur H. James, Senator James J. Davis, Congressman J. W. Ditter, Hon. Frederick C. Peters, many another notable.

Young Democratic Clubs of Pennsylvania will rally and picnic at Hershey Park, near Harrisburg, to open formally the Democrat's fall campaign. It is expected Governor Earle will speak and that with an attendance of 100,000, answer will be made to the strong show of strength made last week-end by the Young Republicans' Harrisburg convention.

Ranger Lodge

Casco, Maine,
August 21, 1938.

Just two days hence is the Ranger Lodge day of days—the sixth annual Farewell Banquet, the crowning (and cramming) event of the season.

Nearly everyone is in the throes of last minute point-winning. Points are given to campers to represent their achievements in each of the twenty or more activities of camp. Eighty must be earned to merit the title of "Honor Camper."

Incomplete returns yesterday showed Harry Middleton and Bill Thomas neck and neck in the race at 85 points each. Some of the others sure to end up with points to spare are Paul Coleman, Charlie Dykes, Leon Herbert, Bob Mahon, Howard McConnell, Sandy Whitwell and Bill Shanklin.

One of the features of the Tuesday night eat-fest will be the awarding of medals and trophies for superior work in individual activities.

Red Cross life saving insignia will be sewn on the swimming suits of ten Main Liners, according to instructor Bill Whiting. The newly inducted lifeguards are Franklin Wedge, Bill Kennedy, Blaine Rawdon, Paul Holgate, Ted Friel, Bill Thomas, Kent Roberts, Joe Clausen, Wins Connor and Tennent Buzzy.

Best in the game of volley ball, which became quite a fad in August, are Bob Mechling, John Bartle, Bob Paine and Dick Longaker.

There will be plenty of "decorating" done in the rifle division, no less than twenty campers receiving gold, silver and bronze National Rifle Association medals for praiseworthy work on the range. The honored marksmen are Walt and Bob Hayes, Charlie Dykes, Herb Phillips, Herman Schaeffer, Isaac Kershaw, Carrell Laird, Bob Reed, Blaine Rawdon, Bob Narrigan, Bob Boyne, Marshall Brooks, Ken Clancy, Bob Clancy, Hugh and Stu Dunlap, Ted and Brooke. FLOWER SHOW

All amateur gardeners and flower lovers of the Eastern Main Line will have a chance to compete for prizes at the 12th annual flower show to be held September 16 by the Woman's Club of Ardmore at the Ardmore avenue clubhouse. The show will be a memorial to the late Mrs. Cecil H. Vaughan, of Ardmore, who had been chairman of the shows for ten years prior to her death this summer. Miss Emma Hamilton, her co-chairman, and Mrs. Campbell Carr and Mrs. Harold H. Elliott, and a large committee held a meeting August 11, when plans were completed. Schedules will be furnished to anyone on the Main Line who wishes to compete. Save your choicest blooms and send them for exhibition and thus help make this a fitting tribute to the former chairman.

Boro Ball President Defends Pro Team; Playground Suggestion--

Editor Elwood:

You are swinging wildly in your analysis of what the majority of Borough fans demand in the way of baseball. While there is merit in the claim for recognition of local talent, and I subscribe to it to a certain degree, thought must be given to the fact that the Narberth Baseball Club operates to furnish the best grade of ball to the patrons who support the club. Fans care not where the player makes his abode, any more than a Narberth student is disturbed by the thought his teacher may live outside of the town. The management's chief concern of the team's personnel is that they demonstrate the brand of ball league competition requires, and which Narberth expects and demands.

Twilight baseball in Narberth has in recent years been a money-losing proposition. Last year with a pennant winning team and all regular players on hand for every twilight game, and with the exception of the battery, no player receiving a dime, the major portion of the current deficit was traced to twilight games. The fans support was not there, and the overhead per game (expense for battery only) amounted to $30.00, whereas the average collection was $20.00, and playing two games weekly, the deficit in these games offset the better support of the league games, with the resultant red figures for 1937. This year it was decided to play only one twilight game a week and even at the games played before the one in which Mickey Gavin pitched there was only a bakers dozen in attendance.

The continued loss in the twilight games behooved the few men who must meet this shortage, and who are already endorsers on a substantial note discounted at the local bank for the benefit of the ball club, to cut short by two weeks the regular twilight season. However, it was not necessary to cancel the game with the Philadelphia Police, as it was never definitely booked.

Yet with all of the lack of "esprit de corps," and grabbing pinch hitters from among the spectators, Narberth during the season lost only one twilight game, and that came about by substituting an amateur pitcher late in the game, because word was passed to him in advance that he would be given an opportunity to work that night.

Mickey Gavin Writes

Bryn Mawr, Pa.
August 22, 1938

Editor Elwood:

Reference made in your baseball article in this week's issue of OUR TOWN that Mickey Gavin played a benefit game is somewhat ambiguous.

The game at Narberth in which I played was in no sense a benefit game for me which some readers might construe from your article.

I sought the opportunity several times to pitch a game for the Narberth Club as I wanted to demonstrate to my many friends in the Borough who were so kind and generous to me at the time of my accident, that I was up and about again and practically normal.

I think the reason why most of the regular players were not at this particular game was not on account of the fact that the Twilight games prior to this game were played on Tuesday night, whereas this game was played Wednesday night, and it was the first game played on Wednesday night. Continued on Page Two

As regards local boys playing elsewhere, we will dismiss the case of Howdy Powell who has long since left the Borough. Harvey Cook signed and played with Narberth this year, but asked for and received his release to go with Coatesville where he was promised work every game. Narberth was the first Main Line League team to give Ock Smith his chance. He came to us as a pitcher and worked many games, and only left when the old arm went dead. That we could not have foreseen that he would later develop into a star outfielder is one of the strange twists in judgment, comparable to that which persuaded Connie Mack to let Harry Kelly go to Washington via waiver route, at a time he needed pitchers badly. You know how Connie is now yelling "Has anybody here seen Kelly?"

Hooray for the Nats

It must have been an oversight when in expressing optimism for Narberth's baseball future, that you overlooked mentioning the Narberth Nationals. Here's an aggregation that stands Continued on Page Two

Pro-Amateurs

Dear Editor:

Because last Sunday at the playground the Narberth Nationals defeated the Narberth Main Line League team, there seems to be a lot of crying towels out in the lair of the Narberth Club. Which is quite hard for the fans who have followed the Narberth teams for twenty years or more to understand. These real fans have been waiting a long time for a pure all Narberth team to again take the field and show their stuff. You probably have noticed how the ball crowds have fallen off this year and it is explained in the fact that the old local talent is missing for although the population of the borough and vicinity has grown twenty-five per cent the attendance has dropped at least fifty per cent.

To understand the attitude of the old fan, ask "Pop" Davis how they used to turn out and root for the Narberth boys and he can tell you. The writer personally doesn't think the real Narberth talent should be absorbed as a body, but I do make the suggestion that the Narberth Club next year promote the younger team in twilight games and the officials turn out and watch them carefully to see if they can't produce a few good players to replace a few of this year's Narberth team that don't quite reach the hearts of the fans.

I understand the Narberth Club is promoting another game with the Nationals with the reason that the complete Narberth team was not on the field last Sunday. This sounds like a poor excuse, but I believe the Nationals are willing to accept if the arrangements are more satisfactory. In closing, I say to the officials of the Narberth Club, if you do thump the Nationals' ears off in the next game, don't let that stop you from watching them and help to develop them in 1939. THOMAS W. CASEY.

Penn Wynne Troop Makes History As Camp Delmont Ends Best Season

Camp Delmont, the Delaware and Montgomery Counties' Boy Scout camp, closed its twenty-sixth successive camping season last week.

In the six weeks' season, 2650 awards were made to the 2119 Scouts who attended camp. Besides the 2119 Scouts, 137 troop leaders and 45 staff members were in camp.

The ratio of leaders to boys this year was one to fourteen. 196 boys were taught to swim. 141 passed their first class rank, while 120 became second class. A total of 938 merit badges were earned and 1227 scouts went home with their C. D. Awards, which are comparable to a camp letter. There were 9 Honor Patrol awards, 2 of them going to Penn Wynne Troop No. 1—the first time in history that a Main Line troop has had two such awards for a single camping season.

American Red Cross Swimmers' buttons were given 196 scouts, 76 earned their A. R. C. Junior Life Saving rank, and 2 received their A. R. C. Senior Life Saving cards. Seven boys became Scout Life Guards while in camp.

129 scouts were elected to the Order of the Arrow, an honorary camping organization to be found in most scout camps throughout the country and considered to be the highest honor a camper can receive outside of his actual scout rank.

The various scouting courses taught in camp proved most popular with

The Baseball Story

Many people have inquired who wrote it. The editor did. . . . Sentiment in favor of a Narberth ball team manned by Narberth players is widely shared. . . . There are those who say the reason attendance at local games, notably twilight ones, has fallen off is because Narberth fans don't get steamed up over strangers; what they like is to root for their own neighbors playing on their own ball team; they even go so far as to say that the ball club's deficit will be much easier to wipe out, and to prevent hereafter, if the ball club returns to an amateur home-town status.

Narberth Baseball

tops in the class they travel, even when it comes to playing the older team, whom they took to camp on Sunday last. They are all Narberth boys and play for the love of the game. They furnished pastime for the Borough when the older team was playing away or was not scheduled, and I am told when the hat was passed at their games their average collection was less than $3.00.

With baseballs costing over a dollar each, to say nothing of other necessary disbursements, it truly will be a long long range plan to play ball here for the sport of exercising local talent, unless the expense is underwritten by more benefactors than we have been able to chase out of hiding in our own financial problem, which is steadily becoming a heavier burden for too few people to meet, when the scope of the pleasure and the publicity to the Borough in general is considered.

Twilight baseball played at 6.15 P. M., no matter where played or under what circumstances, has not been successful this year. The Philadelphia League, a major league in this respect, is badly rattling for want of support and have been obliged to change many of the night games to Saturday and Sunday afternoon. The starting time clashes with a main meal of the day, and it seems to be too much of a hustle bustle in these hot days for the fans to get there on time.

Those who have made a close study of the decline in attendance at twilight games in Communities such as ours, claim it has suffered since the advent of Sunday baseball, for the fans in these centers cannot be regarded as rabid, being satisfied to see a game at their convenience and leisure, and Sunday seems to better fit the occasion for them.

Playground Suggestion

Twilight games could, however, become more interesting to the fans and more self-sustaining to the Club, if you were to warm up the City Fathers to the thought of placing lights in the playing field, when the game could start in the cool of the evening about 9 P. M., when all other chores were finished. These lights could also be used for Band Concerts, Outdoor Boxing (strictly local) and other activities, and in the Winter who knows but maybe we could have Ice Skating on the Borough field.

Switch then the long range plan for this and support will come from all sides.

R. A. CABREY, President,
NARBERTH BASEBALL CLUB.

This change might have contributed to the small crowd that was present that night, for while I have no knowledge what the Narberth Club took in that night, I have a pretty good idea that they don't get enough to pay for the baseballs after paying the visiting Club a guarantee.

I want to take this opportunity of again expressing my warm gratitude to all the fans in Narberth for their loyalty to me, both while a member of the Narberth Club, and during my stay in the Abington Hospital.

Sincerely,
JOHN MICKEY GAVIN

Melody of violin and marimba blended with nature's own rhythms supplied by the wavelets lapping the shore and the cracking of pine logs. The scouts, with 117 receiving degrees in the Aquatic Leadership Course, 103 in Activities, 129 in Nature, 88 in Crafts, 196 in Patrol Leadership, 94 in Quartermasters and 79 in the Explorer Camp. It is believed that Camp Delmont is the first scout camp to teach boys these courses in leadership.

Seventy-nine boys, under the leadership of Melvin Mack and Ray Omiller, made up the Explorer Camp at Delmont. They completed the first of six Adirondack cabins, a lean-to type of cabin 14 feet by 12 feet. They also constructed six Adirondack chairs. All the material used in this work was found within the limits of Delmont.

The Pioneer Camp managed to cover over 100 miles in overnight hikes. All meals were prepared by the scouts in preparation for Cooking Merit Badge. Their entire program fitted in with the Senior Scout Program as designed by National Headquarters. "Learning by doing the play-way method," these older scouts were prepared for merit badges in Pioneering, Cooking, Camping and Surveying. In this particular section of camp the scouts averaged earning 30 merit badges per week. They also found time to construct three bridges, a boat dock and a washstand as their camp projects for the season.

Provisions used over a six weeks' period at Camp Delmont were 126 crates of lettuce, 21,000 quarts of milk, 1,680 pounds butter, 3,570 loaves of bread, 142,800 slices of bread; 5,250 pounds beef, 168 bags of potatoes and 16,800 pounds of potatoes.

"The Return of the Scarlet Pimpernel," Alexander Korda's superb and stirring sequel to his great French Revolution film, is due Wednesday and Thursday.

Next week-end, Lloyd C. Douglas' inspired successor to "The Magnificent Obsession" and "The Green Light" will be shown in Narberth. It is "White Banners," starring Claude Rains, Fay Bainter and Jackie Cooper.

Romance and adventure are combined with hilarious results in "Fast Company," new mystery drama which is being shown at the Egyptian this Monday and Tuesday, August 29 and 30. Melvyn Douglas and Florence Rice portray an ultra-modern couple who believe in combining their domestic and business careers. This is a picture almost as funny as the "Thin Man." You'll like it.
